The Stephen Siller Tunnel to Towers Foundation is building a SMART HOME for a local Vietnam hero here on Staten Island. Welcome home Sgt Michael Sulsona, USMC.

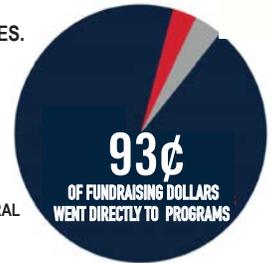

On January 15, 1971, while on patrol in an infantry unit in central Vietnam, USMC Sgt Sulsona stepped on a land mine resulting in multiple wounds, including the amputation of both legs above the knee. After weeks spent in a hospital in Guam, Sgt Sulsona was transported to the Philadelphia Naval Hospital. He was awarded the Purple Heart and the Bronze Star with "V" for valor.

In the years that followed, Sulsona earned a Master's Degree in Writing from Goddard College, wrote 23 plays, appeared in the movie, "Born on the Fourth of July" and in the documentary, "Hearts and Minds". His plays have received national recognition and awards. Sgt Sulsona now serves as an ambassador for the Tunnel to Towers Foundation, providing valuable advice, guidance, and mentorship to injured service members.
