2022 ANNUAL REPORT

OUR MISSION

Since September 11, 2001, the Tunnel to Towers Foundation has honored the heroic sacrifice of FDNY Firefighter Stephen Siller and all those who perished on that tragic day by supporting those who continue to risk life and limb every day.

Tunnel to Towers provides mortgage-free homes to Gold Star and fallen first responder families with young children and builds custom-designed smart homes for catastrophically injured veterans and first responders, to ensure these heroes and the families they leave behind always have a place to call home.

In 2022, Tunnel to Towers expanded its mission to support those that served our country, by vowing to eradicate veteran homelessness nationwide.

A MESSAGE FROM THE CHAIRMAN

Dear Friends,

I started the Tunnel to Towers Foundation with my siblings as a way to honor the sacrifice of my brother, Stephen. The foundation was built on the promise we would NEVER FORGET his life and the lives of all of those who perished on September 11, 2001.

To keep that promise, the Foundation launched the Tunnel to Towers 9/11 Institute which will educate the next generation of students about the events of 9/11. The institute is made up of resources to teach students of all ages about what happened that day and ensure those who were born after the Towers fell know the true story of those heroes who stepped up to save lives that day.

The Institute also pays tribute to the memory of my oldest brother Russ, who joined our brother, Stephen, in heaven in 2019. Russ was an educator for fifty years and now the Foundation is offering a scholarship that bears his name to support students who share in his love of education and selflessness.

The year 2022 was an amazing one for the Foundation, thanks to the generosity of Americans across the country.

We delivered 200 mortgage-free homes to our nation's catastrophically injured veterans and first responders, fallen first responder families, and Gold Star families last year. We opened the doors of the "Let Us Do Good Village" in Land O'Lakes Florida, dedicating the first home to Gold Star Widow Danielle Thornton.

This year also marked the start of our most ambitious effort in our 20 year history. I made a promise that Tunnel to Towers would eradicate homelessness among our veteran population. In less than a year we have made an enormous impact, providing over 500 housing units for America's veterans in their time of need.

While this is an incredible start, there is so much more to do. We will have more to say in the coming year as we work to provide housing, counseling, and care for those who volunteered to serve our country and now find themselves struggling on the streets of the country they once fought to defend.

None of this would be possible without our remarkable volunteers, sponsors, and donors who have joined us on our mission. I want to thank you for your support, as we continue on this mission to DO GOOD.

IN THE LINE OF DUTY PROGRAM

FDNY Firefighter Stephen Siller sacrificed his life in service to others, and in his memory, the Tunnel to Towers Foundation developed the In the Line of Duty Program. This program supports catastrophically injured veterans and first responders, Gold Star families, and fallen first responder families with young children.

To date, the Foundation will have delivered over 600 mortgage-free homes to these heroes and the families they leave behind.

The In the Line of Duty Program includes three distinct initiatives dedicated to supporting our nation's heroes and their families:

- ★ Fallen First Responder Home Program
- ★ Gold Star Family Home Program
- ★ Smart Home Program

LET US DO GOOD VILLAGE

On December 17, 2022, Tunnel to Towers welcomed U.S. Army veteran Danielle Thornton, surviving spouse of U.S. Army SPC Robert Thornton Jr., and their two children into the first home in the Tunnel to Towers Let Us Do Good Village in Land O' Lakes Florida.

The Let Us Do Good Village is a first-of-its-kind community that will provide just under 100 mortgage-free homes for Tunnel to Towers In the Line of Duty Home recipients.

Danielle is the first resident in the village, and is excited to be in a community of families who can relate to each other through shared experiences of loss and hope for the future.

“Moving into the Let Us Do Good Village means the world to my children and me. I prayed many nights that I would find a way for my children and myself to heal, and I believe this community is just what we need. It won’t take the pain away, but it is a starting point in being able to be around families like ourselves that understand the daily struggles we endure.”

— Danielle Thornton

Once completed, the Let Us Do Good Village will be a community of catastrophically injured veterans, Gold Star families, and the families of Fallen First Responders.

The Let Us Do Good Village will be more than just a place to live. It will feature a state-of-the-art community center with an ADA-compliant gym and pool, movie theater, basketball court, pickleball court, meeting rooms, and playground.

The home dedication was part of the Tunnel to Towers’ annual Season of Hope, where the Foundation pays off the mortgages or provides new mortgage-free homes across the country to America’s heroes and their families.

GOLD STAR FAMILY HOME PROGRAM

The Foundation honors the legacy of those who have made the ultimate sacrifice while serving our country, by paying off the mortgages or providing the surviving spouses and young children with mortgage-free homes

GOLD STAR FAMILY HOME PROGRAM

United States Army Major Paul Clarke Voelke

On June 22, 2012, United States Army Major Paul Clarke Voelke was killed in Afghanistan. He left behind his wife of 12 years, Traci, and their two sons, Andrew and Benjamin.

Tunnel to Towers paid off the mortgage on his home on Veteran's Day.

Major Voelke dedicated his life to serving his country, attending the United States Military Academy at West Point after graduating high school. During his 14 years with the Army, he deployed five times, twice each to Iraq and Afghanistan and once to Kosovo.

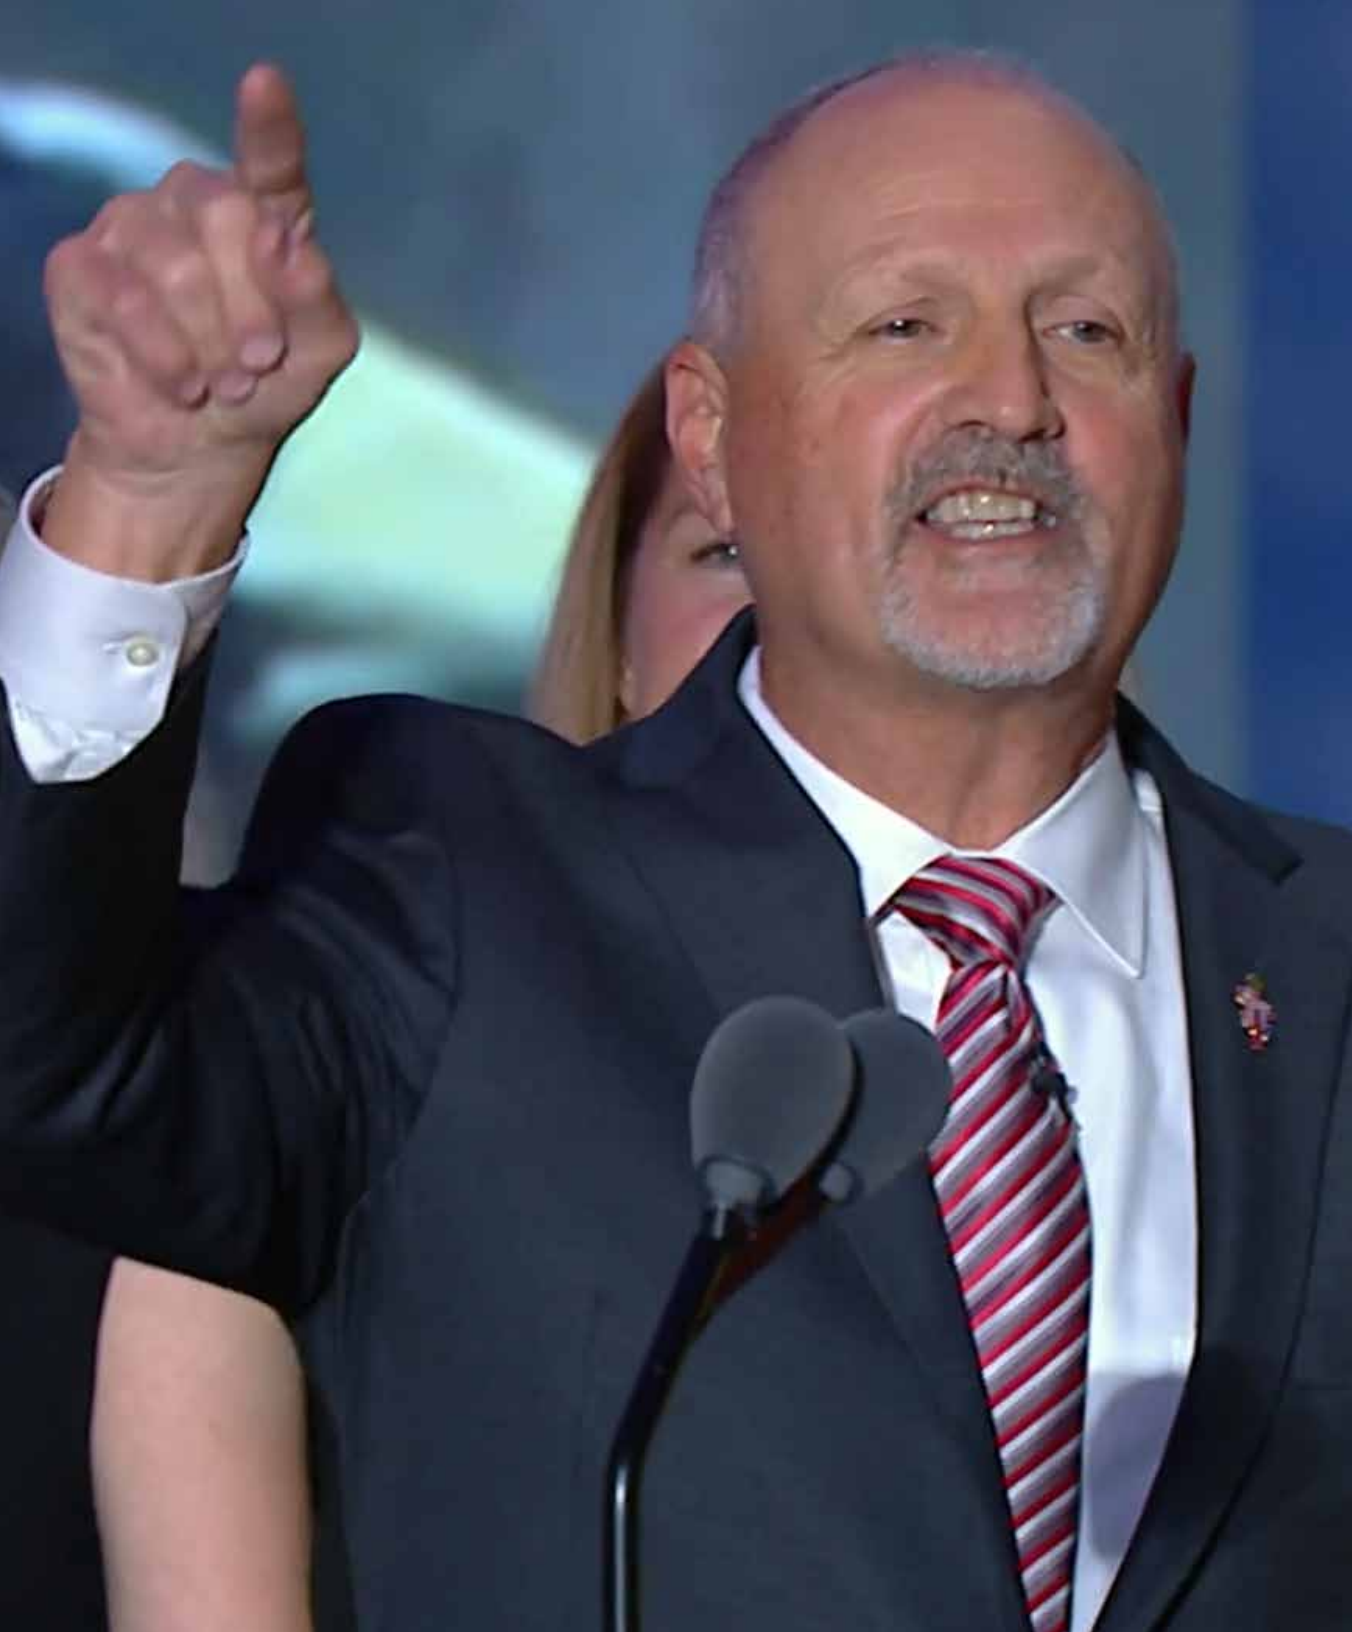

In an op-ed piece written for Veterans Day, published in 2009, he wrote about the impact of September 11th, on his life.

“Serving to defend this nation has a special meaning for me. Like most of us, I remember exactly what I was doing on the morning of 9/11. I remember the television images of the towers burning had a surreal quality. But there was no feeling except reality when someone walked in and said that 300 firefighters had died. My heart started racing because my father was a firefighter. I soon learned that he wasn't at work that day — he was safe. Since then, I've thought about what it means to stand with the forces designed to protect the United States. I've realized that I'd give anything to make sure no one flies an airplane into my sons' office building someday.”

FOX NATION PATRIOT AWARDS

On November 17, the Tunnel to Towers Foundation changed the lives of 21 Gold Star Families and Fallen First Responders by surprising them with the news that the mortgages held on their homes had been paid in full.

Foundation Chairman and CEO Frank Siller announced the surprise on stage at the FOX Nation Patriot Awards, held at Hard Rock Live in Hollywood, Florida. FOX Nation's Patriot Awards honors America's most valiant heroes, including military veterans, first responders and other everyday heroes.

"We are here tonight to celebrate everyday Americans who do amazing things, and there is nothing more amazing than volunteering to serve our country or community. I am honored to announce that Tunnel to Towers, with the support of Americans across this great country, will now be taking care of you, the way your loved ones took care of us. Tunnel to Towers has paid off the mortgage on the home of every single family here on this stage. Twenty-one mortgages, all paid in full to ensure that all of you and all of your children will be able to stay in your homes, FOREVER,"

— Frank Siller Tunnel to Towers Chairman and CEO

FALLEN FIRST RESPONDER HOME PROGRAM

The Tunnel to Towers Foundation pays off the mortgages for the families of law enforcement officers and firefighters who are killed in the line of duty and leave behind a spouse and young children. The Foundation's goal is to ensure stability and security for these families facing the sudden and tragic loss of a loved one. In 2021, Tunnel to Towers expanded the program to support the families of first responders who lost their lives due to 9/11 illnesses.

FALLEN FIRST RESPONDER HOME PROGRAM

Bristol Police Lieutenant Dustin Demonte

On Wednesday, October 12, 2022, while responding to a domestic violence call, Bristol Police Lieutenant Dustin Demonte was shot and killed in an ambush attack. He left behind his pregnant wife Laura, and two children. Frank Siller drove to Demonte's home in December, just weeks after he was killed and informed Laura the mortgage on her home had been paid in full.

"There are no words to express my gratitude to Mr. Siller and the Tunnel to Towers Foundation. To have the freedom to continue forward without the financial burden of a mortgage, allows me to spend the most time and energy on my children as possible, which I am so thankful for. In addition to financial support, this Foundation provides a network of people who understand and truly care. That network reaches so far and wide, and it brings me a great sense of comfort and connectedness during this extremely dark time," — Laura Demonte.

Nassau County Detective First Grade Matthew Perlungher

Detective First Grade Matthew Perlungher of the Nassau County Police Department passed away on August 4, 2021 due to a 9/11 related illness. In 2021, recognizing the overwhelming need, Tunnel to Towers expanded the Fallen First Responder Home Program to support the families of first responders who lose their lives to 9/11 illnesses. Detective Perlungher was a veteran of the U.S. Navy and served in Nassau County for 23 years. He spent the last decade of his life raising funds and awareness for childhood cancer, in memory of his six year old son Jack, who lost his battle with cancer in 2010. Officer Matthew Perlungher is survived by his wife, Erika and daughter, Emma.

“Words cannot express how thankful and grateful we are to know that such a financial burden has been lifted that our home is now paid off. My husband and I built our life and family in this home and to know that my house will forever be mine brings me such comfort and I couldn’t thank the Tunnel to Towers Foundation more!”

Tunnel to Towers builds specially adapted mortgage-free smart homes that help our most catastrophically injured veterans and first responders reclaim their day-to-day independence.

SMART HOME PROGRAM

New York City Detective Dalsh Veve

On June 3, 2017, New York City Detective Dalsh Veve was attempting to question the driver of an illegally parked car, when the suspect took off and dragged the veteran police officer for three blocks.

Officer Veve sustained a catastrophic brain injury, a broken shoulder, and he now requires round-the-clock care.

In 2020 the Tunnel to Towers Foundation paid off the mortgage on his home, allowing his wife Esther and daughter to focus on Detective Veve's recovery.

This November, the Foundation unveiled renovations made to his garage, turning it into a rehabilitation center where Detective Veve can continue his recovery.

"We are taking it day by day. We knew it was not going to be an easy road, but with Tunnel to Towers help it's more doable. Now, there is no reason for him not to get up and get to the garage and get better."

SMART HOME PROGRAM

US Army Specialist Maggie Mae Bilyeu

US Army Specialist Maggie Mae Bilyeu joined the service in 2015 and deployed to Afghanistan later that year.

In early 2016, only a couple of months into her deployment, SPC Bilyeu was struck by a suicide bomber, leaving her critically injured. She sustained multiple shrapnel wounds to her chest and torso, a broken leg, the loss of part of her small and large intestines and part of her colon, along with a portion of her left breast. She would eventually lose her left leg below the knee as a result of her injuries.

Days before Christmas, the Tunnel to Towers Foundation, in partnership with The Home Depot Foundation, welcomed SPC Maggie Bilyeu and her wife Mia to their customized, new mortgage-free smart home in Lago Vista, Texas.

Her home payoff was part of the Tunnel to Towers' Season of Hope program, during which time the Foundation gave away dozens of homes across the country to America's heroes and their families.

"I can't thank Tunnel to Towers enough for my mortgage-free smart home. This is such a huge blessing and stress reliever. Knowing my family will always have a roof over our heads is unmatched. The smart home will give me so much independence, especially compared to the rental I am in now."

— U.S. Army Specialist Maggie Mae Bilyeu

SMART HOME PROGRAM

Air Force Senior Master Sergeant Israel Del Toro Jr.

On December 4, 2005, Senior Master Sgt. Del Toro's Humvee hit an IED. The blast left him with severe burns on more than 80% of his body. He lost all of his fingers on his left hand and had the fingers on his right hand amputated at the knuckles.

After being given a 15 percent chance of survival, he not only re-enlisted in the Air Force, but also set records and won a gold medal at the 2016 Invictus Games. DT has learned a number of lessons through hardship and recovery. He now finds purpose in sharing his story and wisdom with audiences around the country, in the hopes of helping others find light in the darkness.

Del Toro and his family received his mortgage-free smart home in Peyton, Colorado in October.

"I'm limited on how I can earn a living and just not having that burden of, 'oh my god, how am I going to pay that mortgage this year,' that means a lot. You always hear thank you for your service. You know, we'll take care of you and when you see something like this, it really hits you like, oh, my god, they really do care."

VETERAN HOMELESSNESS

In 2022, Tunnel to Towers launched a new national campaign to eradicate homelessness in the veteran community.

All veterans who honorably served their country in peacetime or in war deserve our nation's gratitude and a safe and dignified home.

In less than a year, the Foundation was able to provide 500 housing units for our homeless veterans in their time of need.

Tunnel to Towers knows that housing is only part of the solution. In order to address the root cause of veteran homelessness, Tunnel to Towers is providing comprehensive care by connecting veterans with appropriate local services that include mental health counseling, skills training, and addiction support.

The Foundation's Veteran Homelessness campaign furthers its In the Line of Duty mission to DO GOOD and honor of America's heroes.

NATIONAL RUN, WALK & CLIMB SERIES

TUNNEL TO TOWERS 5K RUN & WALK NYC

Tunnel to Towers 5K Run & Walk NYC, the Foundation's signature event, was held on September 25, 2022.

This year's iconic event broke records for fundraising and participation, as tens of thousands of runners, walkers, first responders, and members of the military, retraced Stephen's final footsteps from Brooklyn through the Hugh L. Carey Tunnel to lower Manhattan.

This year's event paid special tribute to the 13 service members who lost their lives on August 26, 2021, during the U.S. withdrawal from Afghanistan. Families of the Afghanistan 13 took part in the event, honoring their lost loved ones. Artist Lynn Mara's FIRST CLASS FOREVER portraits memorialize the 13 Service Members and they were featured along the event route.

The event ended with an unbelievable post-race concert by multi-platinum entertainer Dierks Bentley on Vesey Street.

TUNNEL TO TOWERS TOWER CLIMB NYC

After a two-year hiatus, the Tunnel to Towers Tower Climb NYC returned to One World Observatory on June 5th.

This iconic event gave participants the opportunity to climb 104 flights, or 2,226 stairs, to reach the top of the building, which symbolizes the strength and resilience of New York City.

Erika Oelkers served as the honorary starter for this year's climb. Her husband, FDNY Firefighter Thomas Oelkers, lost his battle against a 9/11-related illness in 2021.

"I'm so proud to be part of this Foundation. The work Tunnel to Towers has done is remarkable. They help first responders, not only those who answered the call on 9/11 in New York City, but across the country. The work they are doing with our military and now homeless Veterans...it is remarkable the impact they have made in 20 years,"

NEVER FORGET PROGRAMS

TUNNEL TO TOWERS 9/11 INSTITUTE

The Tunnel to Towers Foundation's 9/11 Institute, launched in 2022, is the Foundation's expanded effort to keep the promise to NEVER FORGET. This is done by educating and informing future generations about the attacks, those who lost their lives, and the heroic actions that took place on September 11, 2001.

The Tunnel to Towers 9/11 Institute™ is a multifaceted educational program that provides public, private, and home educators with access to nonfiction 9/11 resources. The full curriculum units are built around firstperson accounts. The program is for grades K–12, with social studies lessons, activities, and background materials for teachers, as well as the Discovering Heroes® series authored by Kristie Kiernan Bouryal. These materials will be distributed solely by the Institute.

All curriculum units have been developed by educators within the 9/11 community.

The Institute launched in September and by the end of 2022, the educational material had been downloaded in 47 states and Puerto Rico.

There are 85 active ambassadors in 39 states and the program will continue to grow in 2023.

9/11 NEVER FORGET MOBILE EXHIBIT

The Institute will also deploy the Foundation's 9/11 NEVER FORGET Mobile Exhibit. This is a high-tech, 83-foot tractor trailer that transforms into an 1,100-square-foot interactive exhibit with 9/11 artifacts. It also features guided tours carried out by retired members of the FDNY.

In 2022, the 9/11 NEVER FORGET Mobile Exhibit made 23 stops in 13 states, hosting approximately 85,000 visitors.

The program is designed to help current student-athletes expand their personal brands, while promoting the organization's mission to honor our first responders, military veterans, and their families.

“I am incredibly excited to be a part of an amazing foundation, and I can't wait to work alongside a great group of student-athletes to give back to America's heroes. I believe it's important to make sure nobody forgets what our first responders and service members sacrifice for our community and nation.”

Proper No. Twelve

Numerous Irish whiskey makers sought Conor McGregor's endorsement over the years. But as a true born and bred Irishman, he did not want to simply endorse any Irish whiskey. Inspired by his pride for Ireland and his love of Irish whiskey, McGregor wanted to create his own whiskey that would match his high standards and make his country proud. McGregor, his manager Audie Attar and entrepreneur Ken Austin developed the brand under the project name "Notorious," which eventually led to the creation of Proper No. Twelve. To date, Proper No. Twelve has donated a total of $2 million to Tunnel to Towers.

United Parcel Service (UPS) and its employees have supported the Tunnel to Towers Foundation since its inception. Whether it's providing trucks for our race participants to store their personal items at our annual New York Tunnel to Towers Run & Walk, issuing grants to the Foundation, participating in a workplace giving campaign that has raised hundreds of thousands of dollars, or hosting an annual golf outing to support the Foundation, UPS has been a tremendous supporter.
